From Father:

Mary has been recognized as the Queen of Heaven from the days of the early Church, to be sure, and correlated with the “woman clothed with the sun” and “crowned with 12 stars” in Revelation 12.

But the feast of Mary’s queenship is a relatively new celebration in the Church’s life — it was declared in 1954 by Pope Pius XII, who said that after horror of war across Europe, Mary was a consolation, and that her intercession is a source of hope against the apparent “victory of the powers of corruption” he observed in the world, which were a source of “great anguish.”

Fifteen years later, in 1969, Pope St. Paul VI moved the memorial to August 22 — making an octave of eight days from the Assumption to the celebration of Mary’s queenship in heaven.

The pope wanted to connect the Blessed Mother’s Assumption and her coronation, and he drew from Lumen gentium to do it:

“Mary was taken up body and soul into heavenly glory, and exalted by the Lord as queen of the universe, that she might be the more fully conformed to her Son.”

To be honest, I think we need that source of hope today. Mary is the antidote to a lot of temptations for Christians — especially the contemporary temptation to reduce the faith to a rigid moral system, or to reduce it to a set of ideals, or to a culture.

The faith is a person — Jesus of Nazareth, the image of the invisible God. That person has a mother — the queen of heaven — to whom we can turn as our own, loving, mother.

Of course, it would be a good idea to pray the Glorious Mysteries. It would also be a good idea to entrust the “great anguish” of our own lives and our own time to the Queen of Heaven and Earth — our mother.
